GERMANY SAYS "NO" TO ALLIES DEMAND

Gold Reserve of Reichsbank Sought as Reparations Security

SCORE NEW CUSTOMS

French War Council Meets in Secret to Plan Penalties—To Enforce Compliance.

Berlin, April 19.—The Allied Reparations Commission cast a thunderbolt into German official circles yesterday by demanding that the gold reserve of the Reichsbank and other securities be transferred to Cologne or Coblenz before May 1 as a guarantee of good faith in the forthcoming reparations proposal. The demand was coupled with the condition that none of the transferred valuables be utilized by Germany for other purposes without the approval of the Reparations Commission.

The semi official Wolff Bureau says:

"We are here confronted with a demand which is unacceptable to Germany under any circumstances."

The Allgemeine Zeitung, organ of Hugo Stinnes, the most powerful man in Germany, declares: "The management of the Reichsbank will never surrender its resources voluntarily, neither can the German Government under any circumstances meet such a demand, for it would bring economic ruin on Germany as well as on France."

It is contended in Berlin that the demand violates the treaty, since the Reichbank's resources are legally private property, which, under the treaty, is immune from molestation or seizure. It is maintained that the transfer of the resources of the Reichsbank to branches in the occupied area would not change their private character.

The Frankfurter Zeitung, which has close relations with the Foreign Office, declares that the German proposal will contain four cardinal points:

Germany to take over the debts owed by the Allies to America.

Germany to be granted an international loan, with the assistance of America.

Germany's ability to pay to be determined by an impartial body.

Germany to co-operate positively in restoring the devastated region of France.

Paris, April 19.—The new customs regime established in the occupied territory of Germany under the Inter allied Rhineland Commission's ordinance of April 9 "constitutes a new and flagrant violation of the Versailles treaty," says a note transmitted by the German Government to the Council of Ambassadors here yesterday.

A mixed military and civil "general staff," made up of Marshal Foch, Major General E. A. L. Buat and General Weygand and Louis Loucheur, Minister of Liberated Regions Paul Tirard, French High Commissioner of the Rhineland, and M. Seydoux, who represented France as financial expert at the Brussels Conference, met yesterday morning and listened to several financial, economic and technical experts on the reparations problem.

The utmost secrecy was maintained concerning the meeting but a semi-official communication issued later said that similar conferences would take place "definitely to decide upon and elaborate a general plan for coercive measures, both economic and military, eventually to be enforced against Germany in order to submit the plan in all details to the Allied governments before May 1."

London, April 19.—The German Government, said Prime Minister Lloyd George in the House of Commons yesterday, is still in default with regard to reparations, the trial of persons accused of offenses against the laws of war and disarmament and have not thus far shown any inclination to advance practical proposals for carrying out the Treaty of Versailles in these respects. Therefore, it was imperative for the Allies to confer with regard to the further steps which might be necessary to enforce compliance with the treaty.

Hughes' Stand That Allies Lack Right Disputed

TOKIO SEND CURT NOTE

Challenges Washington To Prove Case Without Yielding Slightest Point—U. S. Inconsistent Is Insinuation

Washington, April 19.—To maintain its position with regard to the Pacific island of Yap, the American Government would have "to prove not merely the fact" that President Wilson made reservations concerning it, but also that the Supreme Council "decided in favor of those views."

This the Japanese Government asserts in a note under date of last February 26, made public yesterday by the State Department along with the other correspondence between the two governments regarding Yap.

"It must also be remembered," Japan says, "that if a decision in favor of the exclusion of the island of Yap—a question of grave concern to Japan and one on which the Japanese delegation invariably maintained a firm attitude—had really been made, as it is implied by the argument of the United States Government, at the meeting of (the Supreme Council) May 7 (1919), at which Japan was not represented, it would not but have been regarded as an act of entirely bad faith."

It was to this note that Secretary Hughes replied last April 5, at the same time sending similar notes to the governments of Great Britain, France and Italy. He declared that the United States was unable to agree with Japan's contention that in order to maintain its position it would have "to prove" not only that President Wilson made reservations regarding Yap, but also that the Supreme Council adopted those views.

"As no treaty has ever been concluded with the United States relating to the island of Yap," Mr. Hughes added, "and as no one has ever been authorized to cede or surrender the right or interest of the United States in the island, this government must insist that it has not lost its right or interest as it existed prior to any action of the Supreme Council or of the League of Nations, and cannot recognize the allocation of the island or the validity of the mandate to Japan."

Japan has not as yet replied to this communication, so that to date the correspondence consists of the two notes quoted above, another formal note sent by acting Secretary Davis last December 6 by direction of President Wilson and two memoranda with which the exchange were initiated last November after some question had arisen at the meetings here of the International Communications Conference concerning the action of the Supreme Council with regard to Yap.

In the first memorandum, dated November 9, the Secretary of State said it "was clear understanding" of the American Government that the Supreme Council at the previous request of President Wilson had reserved for future consideration the final disposition of the island in hope that some agreement might be reached to place it under international control and thus render it available as an international cable station.

The Japanese Foreign Office replied in a memorandum under date of November 19, that it was "the definite understanding" of the Japanese Government that the Supreme Council on May 7 came to a final decision to place under mandate to Japan all of the former German islands north of the Equator; that the decision involved "no reservations whatever in regard to the Island of Yap" and that therefore the Japanese Government, "would not be able to consent to any proposition which, reversing the decision of the Supreme Council, would exclude the Island of Yap from the territory committed to their charge."

In response to this memorandum Acting Secretary Davis dispatched a long formal note to Tokio, setting forth that the American Government

Y. M. C. A. Notes

Thirty-one Pioneers attended the first gymnasium class of all the troops in the city at the Young Peoples' Building last night. The youngsters got a real touch of physical education as it is taught in the Y. M. C. A., all over the country. The physical director was Secretary Wallace, who has been a physical director in leading high schools, colleges and Y. M. C. A's., of the United States and Canada for over tewnty years. He plans to extend the work to older boys as soon as suitable accommodations can be provided.

Some new gymnasium apparatus had been provided and this was used for both the boy's and women's classes last evening. The Pioneers met at 7 o'clock with the three leaders in charge of the devotional period, when instructions regarding the course in physical training were given. The savings accounts were then accepted and the boys were soon on the floor. The work the first evening consisted of marching, calisthenics and a first lesson in elementary tumbling. Miss Hilda Schneider was at the piano and delighted the youngsters with her splendid music.

The class will meet each Monday evening for the next eight or ten weeks at 7 o'clock and all Pioneers of the city will be enrolled as members No fees of any kind are charged and the only condition of attendance is that the member be a regular attendant at Sunday School and member of a Pioneer troop.

The Sunday School Base Ball League will hold its second meeting at the Chamber of Commerce this evening at 8 o'clock. Preliminary work in organizing and caring for the league is being rapidly completed and if the weather man ever decides to provide real, base ball weather, the league will be away to a good start after tonight.

The team at the Second Baptist Sunday School is already organized and partly uniformed. They have enough for a team and some to spare. The Baraca Class at the First Baptist Sunday School played last year and think they will have no difficulty in securing a winning team, while the Henry K. Field Class says that it has enough for two teams. The Trinity M. E. Sunday School is saying nothing but a quality looking bunch of young men have the organizing of a team in hand and a splendid team will doubtless result.

SWIFT JUSTICE GIVEN PRISONER

Harry Fuller Will Serve About Two Years For His Pranks

TRIES TO ESCAPE

Man Who Came Here With Hack Saws and Files Tries to Effect Freedom From Cell.

Harry Fuller, eighteen years old, who was arrested here Friday afternoon when he arrived at the city jail to see a prisoner and who had in his possession two hack saws and a number of files, according to the police, last night endeavored to dig his way out of his cell at police headquarters. Fuller used a steel nail and had removed a considerable portion of the mortar from the bricks the police declare. However, had he succeeded he would not have been able to obtain his freedom inasmuch as he would have to made a dash through a big wooden door into the main lobby of police headquarters.

The accused was arraigned in the police court this morning before Justice W. S. Snow and sentenced to three months for alleged attempt to break out of police headquarters, twelve months and $500 fine for alleged attempted jail delivery. This therefore, will mean that Fuller will spend at least two years on the state road force.

On Saturday Fuller was arraigned in the police court and held for the action of the grand jury for his alleged attempt at jail delivery.

When taken in custody in addition to the hack saws and files Fuller also had in his possession an unsigned letter giving him explicit instructions as to how to get into the jail and how the tools should be delivered. The only prisoner he said he knew at the jail was Oscar Gantt, one of a trio held for an alleged attempted burglary at the store of Julius Wolf, clother. 425 King street.

Fuller claims Baltimore as his home and had a wooden leg. He appeared very downcast over his sentence.

Predicts Canada

Will Soon be Free.

Montreal, Que., April 19.—Explosion of a bomb in their midst could scarcely have produced a more startling effect in political circles than a speech delivered to the women's section of St. Jean Baptiste Society by the prime minister of the province, the Hon. A. L. Taschereau, when it reached the ears of the English speaking population.

Premier Taschereau made the assertion that the confederation is in danger of breaking up and that Canada is at the parting of the ways and must oppose either the status quo, seek independence, or accept annexation to the United States.

He made it evident that independence, at least for French-Canadians, had attractions for him and equally evident that rather than be annexed to the United States he would retain the British connection for a time.

The prime minister introduced his startling review of the political outlook with an attack on nationalization of railways, which he declared forced eastern Canada to bear the burdens of the West in order to save the Western provinces from bankruptcy.

Seize Street Cars

To Satisfy Judgment

New Orleans, La., April 19.—Street car traffic between Gretna and Algiers two towns just across the river from this city, was completely stopped late yesterday afternoon following the seizure of four cars belonging to the South New Orleans Traction Company to satisfy a judgment for damages secured in the District Court.

As a result of this action the towns of Gretna and McDonoughville are tonight depending solely upon hastily improvised jitneys to get from place to place.

The cars were seized to satisfy a judgment for $6,045 for personal damages alleged to have been sustained by Mrs. Pauline Johnson, of Gretna, who was injured when one of the traction company's cars umped the track on August 3, 1919. According to court officials, no attention was paid to the suit by officials of the traction company, the plaintiff winning a judgment for damages through default. It is also alleged that several demands for settlement of the judgment were also ignored by the company.

RIGHT OF WAY FOR FIRE APPARATUS

Law Will be Strictly Enforced By The Authorities

TWO CITED IN COURT

All Drivers of Vehicles Must Stop and Draw up to Curb When Fire Apparatus in Responding to Alarm

Right of way for fire apparatus while responding to fire alarms is being insisted on by Fire Chief K. W. Ogden and the members of the fire department.

A determined effort to secure this for the fire department in order that the department may not in any manner be hampered while responding to fire alarms is being made.

While responding to a fire alarm Friday afternoon the firemen observed two automobilists who failed to comply with the law. Both were cited into the police court today and one appeared and a fine of $5 was imposed. Chief Ogden and W. H. Wood, the latter of the Columbia Company, appeared as complainants The case of the second driver was continued till tomorrow owing to his inability to appear.

The law provides that in case of fire the drivers of all vehicles shall draw up to the curb and come to a complete stop.

Hereafter the numbers of the machines of all who fail to comply with the provisions of the law are to be taken and they will be hailed into the police court and fined. In this way the firemen expect to break up the practice of thoughtless automobilists who fail to give the fire apparatus the right of way.

Murdered Man Identified

As Nephew of Countess

Atlantic City, April 19.—The body of a man found murdered last Thursday in a field near here was identified yesterday by Stephen Lentz, a tailor, as that of Heinrich von Tickler, 50, a nephew of "Countess von Buelow, of Wurzburg, Bavaria."

For many years the murdered man had gone under the name of Henry Euhler and had been employed as a clerk in one of the hotels on the Boardwalk. Lentz, who said he had known "Von Tickler," for years, was unable to identify "Countess von Buelow" among the many German noblewomen bearing that name, although he expressed belief that she was the wife of Field Marshal von Buelow.

"Von Tickler" was found with his head crushed. He apparently had been struck with a blunt weapon.

Although his apparent income had been slight, he always semed well supplied with money. The general belief has been that he received regular remittances from Germany. Throughout the war he lived in Atlantic City and on the entry of the United States into the war registered as an enemy alien.

A Decision of Some Moment.

The decision of the United States Supreme Court yesterday upholding as constitutional the District of Columbia rent control law, known as the Ball Act, is of more far reaching importance than the mere application of this particular piece of legislation in the city and suburbs of Washington. Seven states have passed anti-profiteering laws of one kind or another based largely on the Ball Act. And Justice Holmes in handing down the court's decision specifically declared that state legislatures have as much right to fix rents as they have to fix rates of interest.

Such a decision is admittedly based upon the widest and most liberal construction of the constitution. It certainly goes a long way toward broadening the control of legislative bodies over the business relations of the country. The fact that it was reached only by a bare five to four majority would indicate a radical difference of opinion among the members of the Supreme Court as to just how far legislation can go in regulating business.

In so far as the decision is a slap at the rent profiteers of the District of Columbia and for that matter at rent and all other kinds of profiteers throughout the country, the Supreme Court's decision will be universally applauded. Aside from that, however, those who look with disfavor upon the rapidly encroaching power of government regulation over practically everything will as heartily dissent from the decision as those who are in favor of strict government control will accept and applaud it.

When government control is needed for the public welfare, government control there should be; otherwise the least government is the best government. That was Thomas Jefferson's idea. And it is a good one.

Certainly Agreeable Mr. Harding.

Certainly no one can say as yet that Mr. Harding is a disagreeable President. If thus far in the administration of his high office he has disagreed with anybody, the press dispatches have failed to disclose it. Suave, gracious and beaming, his well proportioned head seems these halycon days always bowing in the affirmative, no matter whether it be in response to an invitation to wear a white carnation all the days of his incumbency or to autograph a picture for some caller from Pohunk, Idaho.

A little boy broaches the matter of swimming pools to the President and he glows with enthusiasm over the memories of the old swimming hole. Take my indorsement, take whatever you like, in the name of the old swimming hole, he says, and he bows his head in the affirmative. A group of horseshoe pitchers appear and present the President with a couple of pairs of nickle horseshoes and he suddenly develops into an ardent horseshoe pitcher. You are a fine bunch of fellows and horseshoe pitching is a great game, he says, and he bows his head in the affirmative. William Jennings Bryan puts in at the White House and says some hard things about this "medical beer" we have all heard so much about (but to date none of which we have received), and the President doubtless becomes in the twinkle of an eye a total teetotaller. You're a great man, Bill Bryan, he says, and he bows his head in the affirmative.

With the White House gates wide open and the President agreeing to everything, the country should soon be in an agreeable frame of mind.

The only gorilla in the United States has just passed away in his private room at Madison Square Garden, New York. He went to his death like a man, veritably.

John Sharp Williams of Mississippi got under the thick skin of the Senate Republicans yesterday when he sent a whole barrage of his noted satire in their direction on the subject of the treaty with Columbia. He said he was for the treaty when it was submitted by a Democratic President and that he is for it now as submitted by a Republican President and lamented the fact that he was unable at his age in life to do the same kind of political somersaults as Senator Lodge and other Republicans were so glib at doing.

Now Bergdoll's escape is to be investigated by the House of Representatives. Why investigate, why waste the time and money? If this investigation is to be like the war investigations made by the House Republicans, we can save them all their trouble and write the verdict they will reach right here and now. That man Wilson was to blame. If he had not insisted upon writing the League of Nations into the Treaty, we would have been at peace with Germany and Bergdoll, even if he had escaped, would have been returned by extradition. Blame Wilson.

Japs Says Issue Lies With Supreme Council

Tokio, April 19.—The Japanese Foreign Office stated today that it was still considering the note from Secretary of State Hughes on the mandate question.

Most Japanese newspapers think Japan is likely to adopt a passive attitude. The Japan Times today says that whatever opinions may be held regarding the "belated" American protest, it can not be said that the Japanese press has discussed the American note in a jingoistic tone.

The Times calls attention to the position of the Japanese Foreign Office in meeting the American claim with a steady refusal to accept the matter as an issue between Japan and the United States, and with an equally steady insistence that the issue was one between the United States and the Powers which first pledged their support to Japan's claim to all the German islands north of the Equator and later, when the mandate idea came into being, handed over the Island of Yap to the jurisdiction of Japan.

The Times says it understands Japan will not issue any particular defense of her position, but will rely upon the publication of the correspondence to make Japan's case clear to the world.

could not agree that Yap was included in the decision of the Supreme Council of May 7, 1919, as claimed and that even on the assumption that the island had been included in the mandate "all other powers should have free access to the island for the landing and operation of cables."

The Japanese reply on February 26 said that if the observation of the American Government with regard to cables was put forth irrespective of the fact that the island with within the mandatory territory "then the question seems to be one which should be freely settled by the nation which has charge of the place, namely Japan."

The note went on to say that if the observation was made owing to the nature of the mandate, Japan would draw attention that at the meeting of the Commission on Mandates on July 19, 1919, Col. E. M. House, one of the American Peace Commissioners, opposed Viscount Chinda's claim that the same equal opportunities for commerce and trade should be guaranteed in territories of the "C" class (such as the Pasific islands) as in those belonging to the "B" class of territories under mandate.

"In view of the position thus taken by the American delegate," the note added, "the Imperial Government feel obliged to state that in their opinion, the American Government cannot with justice contend for the open door in the 'C' class territories against Japan and to insist by the United States Government at the same time that they cannot consider themselves bound in any way to recognize the freedom of other nations in the manner insisted upon by the American Government in regard to the landing and the operation of cables even in places where the principle of the 'open door' is to be guaranteed."

Reverting to its claim to the award of the mandate over Yap by the Supreme Council, the Japanese Government said the British Government had placed the same interpretation on the action of the Supreme Council on May 7. It also declared that it was unable to understand why the United States had waited for more than a year and a half to question the "decision" of the Council, particularly in view of the publication of the text of the "decision" at Paris on May 8. It observed that the American Government did not protest at the time of publication, although such a course would naturally have been expected had the publication text not conformed to the American understanding of the action of the Council.

When notified Sergeant Chichester, Fredericksburg, went in pursuit and caught the men on a highway in Stafford County. They gave their names as Frank Reanero, Andrew Delipo, and Girard Slave, of Lawrence, Mass. They were turned over to the Spotsylvania authorities.

Waddill Advocates to See President Friday

Washington, April 19.—Senator Swanson yesterday called at the White House and arranged for a delegation of Virginians from Richmond, Norfolk and other cities of the State to see President Harding next Friday morning at 10 o'clock in behalf of Judge Edmund Waddill.

Judge Waddill will be recommended for the vacancy on the United States Circuit Court of Appeals made vacant by the death of Judge Jetter C. Pritchard.

North Carolina Man In Lead as Revenue Head

Washington, April 19.—David H. Blair, an attorney of Winston Salem, N. C., was understood yesterday to be in the lead of the field of candidates for appointment as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The selection of a new commissioner is expected Wednesday.

It was learned today that Senator Penrose, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, have been making inquiries regarding the capabilities of the North Carolina man. They have asked the two Democratic Senators from that State regarding Mr. Blair and have received favorable reports, it is said from Senators Simmons and Overman. Although Mr. Blair is a Republican, the North Carolina Senators are said to have attested to his fitness when Republicans made inquiries.

Bowling Green, Va., April 19.—While she was waiting for a train at the railroad shanty at Claibornce Crossing, Sunday morning, Mrs. Carla P. Thomas, a widow, was assaulted, knocked down and beaten by a negro who confessed to the crime, according to the police, and gave his name as Richard Lassiter, and his home as Murfreesboro, N. C.

According to Mrs. Thomas, the negro was in the shanty when she came up. Upon seeing her, he got up and went out, but returned later. He asked her how far it was to Washington and upon receiving a negative answer, he asked her if she had any money, at the same time grabbing her pocketbook out of her hand. He then knocked her down, choked her, stamped her and told her not to make any noise. The negro then took to the woods and Mrs. Thomas at once notified people close by, and a mob was formed consisting of about 150 men, all well armed. A search was at once started in the woods into which the negro ran.

Lassiter was arrested Sunday night by officers and placed in jail in Bowling Green. No violence was threatened, and today he received a preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury.

May Chance Schedules On Southern Railroad

Lynchburg, Va., April 19.—Persistent rumors prevail among trainmen and railway postal clerks on the Southern Railway system trains here, to effect that the system has decided upon a change in the schedule for the Memphis Special, and which, the report maintains, will shortly be put into effect.

It is claimed that the southbound train now leaving Washington at 8.10 a. m., will leave there at 7 a. m., and that the northbound train, now leaving Bristol at 1 p. m., will leave that city northward at 7 a. m. Such a change would make the southbound train four hours later and the northbound train six hours later than in the present schedule.

Such an arrangement, trainmen point out, would have the effect of splitting the present schedules of 25 and 26, and that formerly for 23 and 24, which were recently discontinued.

Rev. Dr. Drury Named Rector of Old Trinity

New York, April 19.—The Rev. Dr. Samuel S. Drury, head of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., was elected yesterday afternoon the twelfth rector of Trinity Church in succession to Bishop-elect Manning. The election was announced by Dr. Manning at the close of a meeting of the wardens and vestrymen. George F. Carre, Justice Vernon M. Davis, vestrymen, and H. H. Camman, senior warden, were appointed a committee of notification.

WIFE'S TEARS SAVE HUSBAND

Philadelphia, April 19.—The tearful pleading of the prisoner's pretty 19 year old wife, who is nearing motherhood, saved Robert Warner from a penitentiary sentence in Judge Shull's Criminal Court yesterday morning.

The wife declared Warner had been faithful husband and had been driven to desperation by unemployment, when he forsook an entrance to the home of Mrs. Joseph Thomas. Warner pleaded guilty to forcible entry and carrying concealed deadly weapons, Judge Shull, after hearing the plea of the young wife, let Warner off on two years' probation.

"I'll get some kind of work if I have to scrub pictures and sheets," said Warner, as he and his wife left the courtroom arm in arm. Judge Shull could have sentenced him to four years imprisonment.

WRECKS WINDOW, STEALS WEDDING RING, ESCAPES

Chester, Pa., April 19.—After smashing a large plate glass window, a burglar selected a single 14 carat wedding ring from a tray and got away without detection. The ruined window was discovered early yesterday morning. The store is located a short block from police headquarters.

A member of the firm announced this morning that if the wedding ring is returned it will be exchanged for one that fits, in case the stolen jewelry should not be the right size. Nothing else in the store was disturbed, the thief passing up several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry that could have easily been carried away.

5 Gunmen Raid Distillery; Get 200 Cases Liquor

Peoria, Ills., April 19.—Twenty-five men armed with shotguns and pistols swept down on the Corning distillery yesterday in a spectacular raid and seized 200 cases of liquor—and escaped.

Three United States government watchmen, one prohibition agent and a special railroad detective made a vain attempt to fight off the raiders. They were surrounded, captured and locked in a room, while the robbers carried cases and barrels of liquor out to two motor trucks waiting at the lading platform.

The distillery employes had not yet reported for work, but it was broad daylight when the two trucks backed up to the platform and the raiders rushed the door of the shipping room. The government watchman outside the building heard the noise, but did not suspect the cause.

One of the guards went to the shipping room to investigate. As he opened the door he was confronted by 25 weapons and forced back into the building.

The raiders bound him in an upright position in a storage bin, then circulated noiselessly through the distillery until they had cut off all, closing in, they forced the remaining guards to throw down their arms.

They worked speedily in the loading of the trucks, and were just driving away when the day engineer of the plant arrived. He released the captive watchman, who notified the police. Automobiles and motorcycles were pressed into a search for the trucks, but no trace of the robbers was found.

IRISH FREEDOM NEAR CONVENTION IS TOLD

Chicago, April 19.—Messages from field leaders in Ireland's fight for independence, declaring that the Irish virtually had won, were read yesterday by Harry J. Boland, secretary to Eamon de Valera, at the first convention of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

Mr. Boland, in an address, pleaded for the recognition of the "Irish Republic," by the United States, and for moral and financial support from all Americans. He said a new Irish loan of $100,000,000 might be floated in this country soon, as the struggle rapidly is becoming a matter of money.

Outlining alleged British atrocities in Ireland, he said the English Government had "used the torch, the lash, the rope, bullets, sabotage and crimes Christ at his death could not forgive."

Mr. Boland said England could have peace "any time she wanted it by guaranteeing Ireland self-determination," adding that Ireland was "ready to join an association of nations at any time and would guarantee that Ireland would never be used as a base of attack on England."

RICHMOND THEATRE

Alice Brady, the adorable star, comes to the Richmond Theatre tomorrow and Thursday of this week in her latest Realart success, "Out of the Chorus," a drama of love and sacrifice, which proves that character does not depend upon aristocratic birth. A two-reel Fox Comedy, "His Unlucky Job" completes an attractive bill. Tonight is your last chance to see "Lying Lips," featuring House Peters and Florence Vidor, with an all star supporting cast in a superb production packed with genuine thrills and peerless acting. Wanted: National Park Multimillionaire

IN THE closing hours of the last session Representative Rayburn of Texas got all worked up over the idea of the United States accepting gifts, especially in connection with legations abroad, arguing that it was beneath the dignity of a great nation. Representative Rogers of Massachusetts replied to him and said in part:

"It has been habitual on the part of the United States congress to authorize the acceptance of gifts. We occupy a legation at Bangkok that was presented to us by the emperor of Siam. We occupy a building in Morocco that was presented to us by the emperor of Morocco. We occupy a consulate in Tahiti that was presented to us by the reigning queen of the islands. If it is true that in the past we deemed it proper to accept gifts from potentates, why is it ignominious now for us to accept gifts from American citizens who, in the opinion of the President of the United States, seek to present to us objects which it is desirable for the United States to possess? Time and time again we have authorized the acceptance of gifts of various kinds and of great value."

Guilford Court House, the Lincoln birthplace, and Lafayette National park, are gifts. Muir Woods National monument in California was presented to the nation by William Kent. Grandfather mountain, in North Carolina, has been offered to the government for a national park. The will of Joseph Battell of Middlebury, Vt., devises 4,000 acres of Green mountains forest for the same purpose.

Stephen T. Mather, director of the national park service, has made gifts largely in excess of $100,000 in value.

Some multimillionaire could make his name immortal and deserve well of his country by establishing a big fund for the development of the national park system and the national park-to-park highway.

HOTEL MAN CHARGES WAITERS' UNION GRAFT

Chicago, April 19.—A new type of alleged graft in connection with building was explained to the Dailey Joint Legislative Committee yesterday when it resumed its investigaton into the building situation in Chicago.

The proprietor of a North Side residential hotel told the committee that after paying large sums in graft during the construction of his hotel he had to pay a sum to the waiters' union.

"The business agent came to me and said that the dishes I had bought could not be used by union waiters because they were not union made," the hotel owner was quoted by committee members as saying.

"He explained, however, that for a certain sum of money he would instruct the waiters that they could use the non union made dishes. I paid him, and everything was all right."

SPORTS

The crack Linworth Athletic Club, the pride of Southwest Washington, one of the fastest independent nines in the District, has been booked for next Sunday to oppose the Alexandria Dreadnaughts at Union Station field.

This is in line with the locals policy to arrange games only with the strongest possible teams that the Dreadnaught management can bring here during the present season. The games with the Hartfords and Rosslyn Steel Company nines have been cancelled therefore on this account for next Sunday.

This item is to correct the one that was in yesterday's paper regarding the Alexandria Torpedo Station baseball game played Saturday afternoon on North Alfred street diamond. The Alexandria Torpedo Station baseball team easily defeated the Marines from the Washington Navy Yard Saturday afternoon on the North Alfred St., diamond by the score of 22 to 5 The battery for the local boys was Kakefield and Padgett and changed in the sixth to Beeton and Johnson. The feature hitting of the game was done by "Randy" Dawson who played left field for the local boys. He landed two home runs, one in the 5th inning with three men on, and one in the eighth inning, with two men on. All of the local fans are well acquainted with our heavy slugger "Randy" Dawson.

Game for Saturday has not yet been arranged and as soon as arraignments have been made it will be published in this column.

All the friends of "Jimmy" Alexander will be pleased to know that he is able to play again and will probably be in this Saturday's line up for the Torpedo Station.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination to treat liver and bowel complaint with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablet when you feel "logy" and "heavy." Note how they clear muddled brain and perk up the spirits. 15c and 30c a box.

Food for Thought---As Well as Nourishment.
Just do a little discrimating in the choice of the bread you buy. Look into the matter of making---and know of what, and how it is made. It will pay well in satisfaction.
Bread is the "staff of life" only when it gives the proper nourishment--- and it cannot do that to a 100 per cent degree unless there has been scientific care in the selection of the ingredients used---and scientific methods followed in the mixing of the doughs and baking of the loaf.
Every ingredient that goes into CORBY BREAD passes the most rigid laboratory tests; it must be of the highest standard of purity---and what is more we add unusual quantities of rich milk with its nutritive value.
The mixing of the doughs for CORBY BREAD is accomplished by patented machines, which alone are capable of developing ALL the gluten content of the flour—and therefore CORBY BREAD is sure to be more nourishing.
100 per cent purity; and 100 per cent nutrition is aimed at, and attained in, every loaf of CORBY BREAD---every day.

KAISERIN'S CORPSE LEFT BY HUSBAND IN DIMMED MAJESTY

Dublin, April 19.—Never was contrast between former glory and present humiliation more accentuated than when Wilhelm, the former German Emperor, followed the body of his wife, Augusta Victoria, to the station at Maarn, where he entrusted the faithful companion of his grandeur and his sorrow to his sons and friends to take back to the Fatherland.

The Emperor that was, the ex-Crown Prince and other sons present were attired in full uniform of the Prussian Guard, their helmets crape-covered.

The funeral procession arrived at the little station at Maarn in a darkness broken only by the light from a few lamps on the railway embankment. First came a huge car covered with flowers, followed by servants, who loaded the wreaths into the railway carriage. About ten minutes later the hearse arrived, flashing powerful searchlights. It was draped with black cloth, with a white cross and border.

Chaplain Dryander, wearing black robes, alighted from the next automobile. Immediately behind came a car carrying the former Emperor and his daughter, Princess Victoria Luise. This motor drove on until it reached a shelter of shrubs, which hid it from view.

Frederick William, the ex-Crown Prince and Prince Adelbert, in long gray mantles, walked briskly forward. Other members of the family alighted from their cars—Prince Oscar, the Duke of Brunswick, Prince Fuerstenberg, General von Gontard, chief of the household, Countess von Keller and Countess von Rantzau, the staunchest friend of the late Empress and ladies in waiting in the old days and the court chamberlain, Baron von Spitzenberg.

1,500,000 Gallons of Whisky,
Census Shows, Out of Bond

The governments recent liquor census covering all parts of the country showed a total of 1,500,000 gallons of whisky out of bond, prohibition officials announced last night Count was made of stocks of whisky "on the floor" of the wholesale liquor dealers' storehouses, which had been taken from bonded warehouses before withdrawals were banned. Other alcoholic beverages were not included in the census nor were private stocks counted.

Despite the amount of whisky found out of bond, officials indicated the probability of a partial lifting of the ban against the withdrawals of liquor from government bond. At present, officials explained, only retail druggists are allowed to withdraw whisky, but consideration is being given to regulations, which would permit withdrawals by wholesale druggists.

Harding Gives $50 For Swimmin'
Hole Fund to Boy Callers

Washington, D. C., April 19.—Swimmin' hole memories cost President Harding a $50 bill yesterday.

A score of boys and girls intent on collecting a swimmin' hole fund trooped up to the White House, headed by John Wackerman, aged 12, who recently wrote Mr. Harding about the scheme, and was invited to come up and sell the President a ticket to a 'swimmin' hole benefit.

Johnnie and his pals were staggered when Mr. Harding handed out the big bill. They didn't have that many tickets with them, but he said he wouldn't worry about that if they would count him in on the project $50 worth. Secretary Mellon was with Mr. Harding at the time, and he dug up a nice, new $20 bill to add to Johnnie's collection.

LACKS EVIDENCE
IN CRONKHITE CASE

Seattle, Wash., April 19.—Prosecuting Attorney Selden, of Pierce county, declared yesterday that he had no information of evidence available under which he would prosecute Roland F. Pothier and Robert Rosenbluth, former service men, in connection with the death of Major Alexander B. Cronkhite, at Camp Lewis, Wash., in October 1918.

Mr. Selden added that unless more detailed information could be secured, all attempts at prosecution of Rosenbluth and Pothier would have to be dropped. Federal information filed by United States District Attorney Robert C. Saunders recently charged Rosenbluth and Pothier with murder, in connection with Maj. Cronkhite's death.

Pothier, a former sergeant, was arrested in Providence, R. I., last month and brought here. In five purported confessions Pothier was alleged to have declared he shot Major Cronkhite at the direction of Rosenbluth, a former captain.

Suicide Hoax Proves No Joke For Perpetrator

Rochester, N. Y., April 19.—Telephoning to a friend yesterday that he had "taken poison" in his room in a local hotel, Robert W. Joy, 32, was shocked to find the joke on himself, as his message was taken seriously by another person who happened to be on the line. This outsider notified the police and an ambulance was summoned.

The physicians broke into Joy's room and found him chuckling over the hoax. They refused to accept his excuses and proceeded to use a stomach pump, much to the sorrow of Joy.

Wife of Deportee Heads Gang of Girl Shoplifters

Buffalo, April 19.—Her husband deported as a Communist several months ago, leaving her penniless with an infant child for which to care Mrs. Stella Koldzinski, 23, declared war against society organized a band of shoplifters and started them out raiding stores in an effort to force the world into providing her a living.

For weeks they were successful, petty thefts in widespread stores gaining a livelihood for Mrs. Koldzinski and her numerous aides. The mother of one of the girls in the gang Mrs. Koozinski had recruited, however brought the tale to the police and Mrs. Koldzinski, Stella Steffman, 16 and Mrs. Olga Baytka, 26, were arrested.

Stella Steffana was sent to the workhouse for the limit under the law which is three years. Mrs. Koldzinski, though the ringleader, was let off with three months in the workhouse; meanwhile, her child is being cared for by the county. Mrs. Baytka ,who has three small children, was given a suspended sentence for that reason.

"Booked For Hell," Wife's Death Note to Husband

New York, April 19.—Leaving a note addressed to her husband, stating that she was "booked to the innermost depths of hell for the way I have treated you," Mrs. James Cameron, 28, of the Bronx ended her life by gas yesterday, according to the police. She was found sitting in the kitchen, her head covered with bedclothes, resting on a gas range, the jets of which had been turned on. She had been dead several hours.

"My Dear, Good Husband—I go in sorrow and shame to the final tribunal with a prayer on my lips to you. I have transgressed beyond all hope of redemption. I am booked to the innermost depths of hell for the way I have treated you. Please tell everyone at home that I died of insanity. This is my last request.

"I have tried to pull myself together but failed because I feel so desperately sick. I hope you will get the rings. I deeply regret my behavior to your dear mother. Most important of all please tell her was insane, my dearest beloved. God bless you."

Our Science—
For Your Welfare

WHEN General Gorgas was sent to Panama by the United States Government to revolutionize that country's sanitation, his first attention was given to the milk supply. From experience, he learned that impure milk was one of the big factors in the ill health of Panama.

We learned a lesson from General Gorgas and, notwithstanding the fact that the milk used in "The Velvet Kind" is protected by every safeguard as to its purity, wholesomeness and sanitary handling, yet we insist on a rigid and thorough pasteurization in our own plant, as soon as the milk arrives.

For this work—and for your safety—we employ skilled men, imbued with the ideal of cleanliness and sanitation.

We do NOT use gelatin, gums, starch, fillers, imitation flavors or foreign substitutes for cream—

But We DO use pure cream, pure milk, pure cane sugar and genuine flavors in "The Velvet Kind" of our creation.

Our policy of care, in company with our formula and method (Patents applied for to protect our process) by which we make this superior product, reinforced by our standard of ingredients, offers us the exclusive privilege of serving you the most deliciously pure Ice Cream ever made—
